年April 月2, 2025, 日 is destined to be a day in the history of mankind worthy of a special book, President Trump called this day the "liberation day" of the United States. On the same day, he announced that he would impose tariffs ranging from 10-50% to all countries in the world on the 9th, including the major countries that trade with the United States and the uninhabited penguin island in the South Pacific, but excluding several countries such as Russia. The U.S. imposes a 34% 的关税tariff on China, half of the tax on the other side. Because China's tariffs on the United States are 67%, plus 20% imposed for import drug penalties, etc., a total of 54% of tariffs. The most striking of these is that Trump's proposed 加“plus” tariffs are actually 对等关税“discounted reciprocal Tariffs” that are gradually implemented or close to half of the trade between countries and the United States.

Donald J. Trump ✓

@realDonaldTrump

Oil prices are down, interest rates are down (the slow moving Fed should cut rates!), food prices are down, there is NO INFLATION, and the long time abused USA is bringing in Billions of Dollars a week from the abusing countries on Tariffs that are already in place. This is despite the fact that the biggest abuser of them all, China, whose markets are crashing, just raised its Tariffs by 34%, on top of its long term ridiculously high Tariffs (Plus!), not acknowledging my warning for abusing countries not to retaliate. They've made enough, for decades, taking advantage of the Good OL' USA! Our past "leaders" are to blame for allowing this, and so much else, to happen to our Country. MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN!

The global fried pot, a trade "secret" that countless Americans did not know, was suddenly burst into flames, which surprised many people. Many countries, including allies of China and the United States, have been unilaterally imposing high tariffs on the United States. This unequal unilateral trade practice, It has been going on for decades. China has made far more money from the U.S. trade surplus than any other country, and its direct surplus can reach $300.00 billion a year, making it the main source of the U.S. trade deficit.

There are many people who have a trade surplus for China from U.S. trade. Sophistication or 抱不平"unwavering" rhetoric, but their narrative is endlessly about China's unequal tariffs on the United States, which restricts the import of American products; it is like yelling at Americans to suppress trembling, but killing and not mentioning China has long banned Google, pipelines, and Facebook. Wait. No wonder so many allies are 忿忿不平"unwavering", so many are blue and golden American public opinion and chaebols and the big pot of rice socialist camp echo and "flag the flag." "Liberation Day" finally let us see the true face of the world.

There are so many benefits to the trolls, Only the United States was taken advantage of by other countries or eaten tofu, long-term forbearance and did not take any effective blocking measures. As a result, the outflow of industries, The hollowing out of the internal real economy, and so on a series of evil consequences. Of course, there are also many white-eyed wolves or parasites that are good at sophistication. Incredibly, the more countries that make money, the more they are against the United States, the more they work against the face of not eating white. Because the economy of the socialist countries is completely controlled, they are afraid of free market competition, and the profits obtained are eaten up by the elite. Trump believes that the money they earn is used to develop armaments and so on, against the United States; Of course, the trade surplus is also the guarantee for the survival of the authoritarian totalitarian system, the maintenance of stability and the suppression of resistance. With a debt of up to $37 trillion, the US has no way to back. So Trump's counterattack is really reasonable. Almost all of America's allies and trade partners should be well aware that, although there is unwillingness in the mouth, the action is still honest, although there are still many people who misjudge or argue.

The trade war between Trump and China in his first term began in 2018, because of the plague and regime change, the trade war has not achieved the desired results, but the public opinion discussion of the tariff trade war has been deeply rooted in the hearts of the people and cannot be avoided. The Biden administration has continued its painless tariff policy and strengthened new restrictions on technology, investment and other restrictions on China. But the Chinese government has found a way to "wash the place of origin" and avoid U.S. tariffs. Southeast Asia, Central America, and even the penguin islands mentioned above have become places where they may be re-exported to evade tariffs. The time Trump imposed tariffs on all countries around the world was undoubtedly to close all possible loopholes.

In the past few days, the response of various media to the tariff trade war has been overwhelming, but the sentiment is far more than rational analysis, especially the media. It seems like Trump has no culture, crazy, paranoid, emotional, grass-roots. Blame everything. I overheard a video of Trump in 1988. That was 37 years ago, and the young Trump had already sensed that unequal tariffs hurt the United States. He referred to Japan and Kuwait's exports to the United States and their tariff restrictions on U.S. products. After his election campaign, China's inequality and trade-manipulation system became a common target of criticism. Waiting for this day of liberation, Trump has been planning for decades.

Trump is not the only one who has revealed the truth. Former House Speaker Nancy Pelosi In) the 1990s, Pelosi sharply criticized China for imposing high and unequal tariffs on American goods. "In terms of tariffs, it's worth noting that the average U.S. tariffs on MFN imports of Chinese goods are only 2%, while China's average MFN tariffs on U.S. goods are as high as 35 percent," she said. The congresswoman asked in her speech: "Is this a reciprocal? She also said that the U.S.-China trade war is a "work killer", she said: "In terms of work, this is the biggest and cruelst scam." Not only have we not been able to enter their markets, they are highly tariffed and our exports are clearly shut out, but the Chinese side has gained at least 10 million jobs from U.S.-China trade. As early as 2015, during the Obama administration, American think tanks have proposed a blueprint for a strategic shift.

It's funny that some politicians are jumping out now. Oppose tariff reform. After the outbreak of the first Sino-US trade war, I also wrote many times about the trade war and its consequences, which are now attached to the text for reference. In fact, many Americans have long understood or supported Trump's "disorder" anyway. To solve the long-term trade deficit and huge debt problems, and to prevent greater disasters in the future, the United States must experience economic adjustment or turbulence. Unfortunately, the plague unleashed by the Chinese Communist Party has succeeded in halting or delaying the outcome of Trump's first trade war. So, can Beijing withstand this round of tariff strikes?

Beijing 月 introduced countermeasures on April 4th: a 34% tariff against the United States. Trump immediately said that Beijing will cancel the counter-measure by the 9th, otherwise it will add 50% to reach a total tariff of 104%, and refuse any communication, which is undoubtedly a signal of decoupling trade between the two countries. In retaliation for Trump's tariff policy, China imposed another 50% tariff on all US imports on the 9th, including 34% before, a total of 84%. By April 月7, more than 70 countries had contacted the United States and were willing to solve the problem of reciprocal tariffs through negotiations and even zero tariffs on the United States, including the EU and Canada with appropriate countermeasures, reflecting that most countries are self-righteous or unwilling to offend the United States and have a hard-fangle mentality.

Contrary to Beijing's initial preoccupation, no country is genuinely willing to escalate confrontation with the United States. Neighboring Canada and Mexico have a free trade agreement at the bottom, the EU has been soft to negotiate, even the old friend Russia is sarcastic, Beijing has become alone against the United States tariffs and escalating. Countries that do not have substantive bargaining chips. Not only that, but the United States also requires countries entering the negotiations to jointly raise tariffs on China. Trump's plan of action met its stated strategic goals in just a few days.

Isolating Beijing is not the end of Trump's tariff trade victory. As expected, the U.S. stock market and global stock markets ushered in a major stock market crash. Beijing's counter-up call to the 104 percent total tariffs and the global economy's response are just beginning. The world is watching this economic war over the fate of mankind, and who wins and who loses is the focus of much media debate. 年On April 月9, 2025日, at 时12:01 a.m. eastern time分, The actual tariffs on China (104% plus cumulative tariffs) in the United States of nearly 125% have officially entered into force. Trump 日 suddenly announced during the day on Wednesday (9) that the reciprocal tariffs imposed on many countries began to be suspended for 90 days on the same day, and only 10% of the basic tariffs were immediately implemented globally, except for China. The U.S. stock market immediately rebounded in response to Trump's decision. On the 10th, the White House revised the tariff on China to 145%.

When it comes to the century, there will be a win-lose victory. From the perspective of victory, there can be near-term and long-term considerations. Here only analyze the impact of the recent 3-5 years, from the position of the CCP, China, the United States and the world to see the end of the tariff war and the possible dramatic changes. In addition, The victory has different interpretations in the eyes of different people. In Chinese culture, there is also the A Q victory law, and in the CCP's preaching, there is also the great light chicken blood slogan of "from victory to greater victory forever". The discussion in this article focuses on objective facts and the fundamental well-being of the people, and will not analyze this matter from the perspective of position and immediate personal interests, but from the perspective of history and reality, explore the long-term significance of the tariff trade war, and the opportunities for political and military conflicts that may evolve for discussion and reference by netizens.

Victory of the CCP

Beijing's "well-known economists" said the CCP's dream of victory: "China will first launch a counterattack, in order to take the lead in forming an anti-American alliance on trade, if the United States does not be decent, it will kick the United States out of global trade and let it play on its own." The counterattack will indeed affect trade with the United States, but the initiator is the Trump administration of the United States, and the good news is that China has the best time to adopt vertical and horizontal technology. "China can't face the United States alone, the United States is not just against China, at this time, the countries targeted by the United States must unite, if not jointly pressure each ghost, then it is likely to be broken by the United States." "

China's Ministry of Commerce issued a statement on Tuesday (8th), condemning the threat of the United States to raise taxes as "the essence of blackmail", which China will never accept. The statement said that if the US side persists, China will "stay with it to the end" and reiterated that "there are no winners in the trade war, and pressure and threats are not the right way to deal with China." At the same time, the Global Times published an editorial entitled "Tariffs Can't Stop China", criticizing the US for political blackmail under the guise of "reciprocating trade" and undermining international rules and global supply chains. "China will not be intimidated, and countermeasures are difficult but correct decisions. The party media "People's Daily" published a "bell" commentary on the same day, severely criticizing the United States for "abusing tariffs and engaging in power politics", emphasizing that China "never gets in trouble, but is not afraid of things", and pointed out that China has the ability and confidence to deal with any external shocks. "

The 美国正在发动一场经济核战争huge and disproportionate tariffs imposed by the United States, which is tantamount to an economic nuclear war against the world, is destroying confidence in the United States as a trading partner, a place to do business and invest in capital markets. The United States is entering an "economic nuclear winter" that has become the focus or headlines of the mainland media. In short, the United States will enter the Great Depression or economic collapse, and so on. This is also the CCP's belief in the logic of "you hit your wife, I will kill my wife immediately", and I still won.

There are at least three bases and versions of the victory. The above is only a victory for the CCP, but it is not necessarily China, and it will not include suffering citizens. In addition to the CCP will always promote victory, the political forces of the United States will also smear the tariff trade war because of partisan competition, saying that China has won and Xi Jinping has won. Of course, Trump lost, and these parties won.

The biggest victory, of course, is the victory of the Chinese artillery. Face has always been the top priority of a dictatorship, and I will no longer bother to paint it. Under the ban on the Internet, it is difficult for the mainland to see the truth of the tariff trade war, and I hope that my article will spread to the Iron Curtain and let more people wake up.

As long as it is not blind or deaf, the people of China have lost. Some of them will vigorously scold the United States, scold Trump: it is your tariffs, the economic collapse, the foreign trade of the real estate market is falling, and it is almost cornered. But more and more people will wake up: this circular system of white-eyed wolves or parasites will only enrich the elite in the United States and perpetuate the dictatorship. Internally using huge sums of money to maintain stability, foreign absurdity big SB, there is no fair medical care, education, food safety and so on. Since joining the WTO in 2001, where has the people's hard-earned foreign exchange gone? Africa or Xiong'an? So many people on the mainland who understand, all openly and secretly support Trump. Did Xi really win?

Victory of the United States.

The United States, as a country with 5% of the world's population, has a market size of one-third of the world's population, about twice as large as China. Therefore, all countries in the world will regard the US market of science and technology powerhouses as the first preemption of the selection target; the European Union, China and India cannot replace the United States. The value of U.S. exports to China is only about one-fifth of Beijing's exports to the United States. In other words, Even if the scale of U.S. exports to China disappears, the impact on the U.S. economy is quite limited; while China's trade surplus with the United States is Beijing's largest source of foreign exchange, determining the country's own material basis.

The fluctuation of the economy, the temporary shortage of some imported goods and the manipulation of information may lead to a decline in real living standards. But with the free flow of information, more and more Americans will be aware of it, and the United States has no way to back for $37 trillion in debt. Even with the price of the Great Recession, supporting Trump's counterattack should be an inevitable trend. Whether regime change or other factors, maintaining normal tariffs and equal trade are already the consensus of Americans for decades to come, and no one can change or reverse this trend.

Some internationally renowned companies have begun to return to the United States, set up factories in the United States, the collection of tariffs is also accumulated, the United States ultimately won, should not be an accident.

The victory of the world.

World Trade Organization in 1995 (The WTO) was established, and the wave of globalization has swept every corner of the world. With some countries (In particular, the accession of authoritarian and undemocratic institutions) has been completely ignored and undermined, and decades of refusal to implement the agreements to which it joined has been in place. Most of these countries do not have equality, contracts and win-win and other modern civilization ideas, just using the means of scoundrels to deal with international trade relations. Trump's proposed "plus" tariffs, that is, the implementation or proximity to "equivalent tariffs" with other countries, should be resolved decades ago. It is now the last window opportunity to start processing.

The rules of the WTO have been completely destroyed for a long time, but no one has been able to take the lead in changing this situation. As a result, various continents or regions have set up trade organizations to replace the WTO, such as the TPP. As with the CPTPP, there are many similar examples. These organizations seek fair trade and mutual benefit, and all common goals are trying to prevent some of the rules-breaking countries from joining. But the United States, as the world's leading power and largest market, is a trading partner that no country can lack. Any organization without U.S. certification is equivalent to no credibility. This is the reality of the world today.

After the mainland's excessive production capacity is blocked in the United States, it will inevitably find alternative markets in developed countries. The United States has set an example, and other countries will take similar measures to discourage cheap marketing and maintain the fairness and durability of international trade.

In order to calm the internal backlash and nationalism, although the vast majority of countries will argue in their mouths, they want to buy a good or a little bargaining chip with the United States, so they will not be enemies with the United States or the US dollar, Vietnam is a good example. She signed a contract with the United States to impose high tariffs on the north.

Seeing Trump at the table, everyone may be stealing fun behind their backs!

The final victory.

Maintaining the principle of fairness in world trade, It is the foundation of the United States and one of the signs of the progress of human civilization. The post-balging or revolutionary smashing of the WTO has been fragmented and completely undermined by international rules, It is an inevitable choice of history. The emergence of a large number of new international trade organizations, etc., reflects the world's disgust or anger towards the unruly of certain countries. Therefore, Trump's tariffs on the world will not only isolate themselves, but will promote the birth of a new international trading system and let civilized countries continue to prosper.

Three people, including the 2024 Nobel Prize winner in economics, Asimoglu, proposed an important concept to explain the prosperity and poverty of the country. According to their research, "the gap between rich and poor countries in the world is behind the difference between political and economic systems, which divide the national system into "inclusive systems" and "scapture systems." The inclusive political and economic system is the key to long-term economic growth, and today's China is a typical example of "growth under a grab-up system," which cannot bring long-term sustained economic growth. As early as 2014, Asimoglu directly predicted the inevitable decline of China's economy. "

There is only one criterion for the ultimate victory of the tariff trade war, that is, the WTO's unequal trade relations have been completely dissolved and abandoned.

Some people on the mainland say who can stick to the end, who will be the winner of the tariff trade war. This winner will certainly not be a large number of "leek" or 人矿"mines" in China. Both from the perspective of human history and the recent history of China, unequal trade cannot be maintained for a long time. People don't buy your goods, what can you do? In the Sino-British War of 1840, the commodity-exporting countries had foreign guns and foreign guns, which opened up markets everywhere, but ultimately they could not be sustained. So Hu called on the Chinese Communist Party to expand its nuclear weapons and be prepared to deal with the situation where goods cannot be sold, and whether it will also drive the Liaoning off the coast of the United States and threaten Trump's tax cuts?

The CCP people shouted "the sky can't fall down", it seems to be clear, not afraid of the complete decoupling of US-China trade, the CCP will still use the logic of "you hit your wife, I will immediately kill my wife", desperately squeezed, forced the domestic people, and also conspired against Taiwan to solve the face dilemma caused by the tariff trade war. However, in the first 1-2 , months of the "liberation day", the US defense secretary has visited Asia in advance, and the US military's combat readiness has been implemented. The next political-military confrontation, which may be more complex or magical than I expected in 2018, may be more complex or magical. We will see how the Liaoning opens up a demonstration off the coast of the United States, or threatens to demand that the government of the Republic of China work together to push up tariffs and defeat Trump.

(年April 月5, 2025) Chinese government's position on opposing US tariffs

Recently, the United States has announced the excessive use of tariffs on all trading partners, including China, seriously violating the legitimate rights and interests of all countries, seriously violating the rules of the World Trade Organization, seriously damaging the rules-based multilateral trading system, and seriously impacting the stability of the global economic order.

The relevant practices of the United States violate the basic economic laws and market principles, ignore the balanced results of the interests reached in multilateral trade negotiations, ignore the fact that the United States has long profited from international trade, and use tariffs as a weapon to implement maximum pressure and seek personal interests, which is a typical unilateralism, protectionism and economic bullying. The United States is pursuing the so-calledThe zero-sum game under the banner of "equivalence" and "fairness" is essentially the pursuit of "America first" and "the special of the United States", subverting the existing international economic and trade order by means of tariffs, putting the interests of the United States above the public interests of the international community, and serving the hegemonic interests of the United States at the expense of the legitimate interests of all countries in the world, which is bound to be generally opposed by the international community.

China is an ancient civilization, the state of etiquette. The Chinese people advocate treating people with sincerity and faith. We are not in trouble or afraid of things, and pressure and threats are not the right way to deal with China. China has taken and will continue to take resolute measures to safeguard its sovereign security and development interests. The essence of China-US economic and trade relations should be mutually beneficial and win-win. The United States should conform to the common expectations of the two countries and the people of the world, and from the perspective of safeguarding the fundamental interests of the two countries, stop the economic and trade suppression of China with tariffs as weapons, and stop undermining the legitimate development rights of the Chinese people.

As the world's second largest economy and the second largest consumer market for goods, no matter how the international situation changes, China's door to opening up will only open wider and wider. We will continue to promote high-level opening-up, steadily expand institutional opening-up such as rules, regulations, management and standards, implement high-level trade and investment liberalization and facilitation policies, create a first-class business environment for market-oriented and internationalization, and share development opportunities with the world to achieve mutual benefit and win-win results.

Economic globalization is the only way for human social development. The rules-based multilateral trading system, with the World Trade Organization at its core, has made important contributions to promoting the development of global trade, promoting economic growth and sustainable development. Open cooperation is a historical trend, and the world will never and should not return to a state of being closed and divided from each other. Mutual benefit and win-win results are the aspiration of the people, and the economic bullying of beggar-thy-neighbor will eventually eat itself. It is the shared responsibility of the international community to promote economic globalization in a more open, inclusive, inclusive and balanced direction.

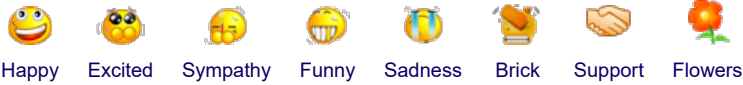

Development is a universal right in all countries of the world, not a patent of a few countries. International affairs should be jointly discussed and handled by everyone, and the future and destiny of the world should be jointly controlled by all countries. There are no winners in trade wars and tariff wars, and protectionism has no way out. All countries should uphold the principle of joint consultation, joint construction and sharing, adhere to true multilateralism, jointly oppose all forms of unilateralism and protectionism, safeguard the international system with the United Nations as the core, and safeguard the multilateral trading system with the World Trade Organization as the core. The vast majority of countries in the world who believe in fairness and justice will choose to stand on the right side of history and make choices that are in line with their own interests. The world needs justice, not overbearing!

On the 10th, the White House revised the tariff on China to 145%. China will then raise the US tariff by 125% and announced that it will no longer be "accompanied to the end".

On the evening of April 15, China and the United States re-newsed the news, and the White House wrote in its latest statement on its official website that the tariffs on China would be increased to 245%. The White House said on April 16 that China, released on April 15, now faces a maximum of 245 percent tariffs, not a new increase, nor a response to the terms of Beijing's negotiations. In addition, according to the Wall Street Journal, the Trump administration plans to use the ongoing tariff negotiations to pressure its trading partners to limit their dealings with China and completely isolate the Chinese economy. On April 16, the White House also clarified that some Chinese exports to the United States face a "reciprocal" tariff of 125% plus 20% of the fentanyl tariff, plus the Section 301 tariff on specific goods ... a total of up to 245% tariff rate.

According to the New York Times, the 245 percent tariff is for some items, not full-blown tariffs, such as syringes and needles. CNBC reporter Casella also pointed out that "Don't be in a hurry to watch the 15th news about the tariff increase on China to 245% - the policy itself has not changed." The 145 percent tariffs Trump imposed on Chinese goods this year were added on top of the tariffs he had already imposed before he took office on January 20. Tariffs on some goods have reached 100%."
